• Rewards Categories: Merchants who accept

Visa/Mastercard credit cards are assigned a merchant code, which is determined by the merchant or its processor in accordance with Visa/Mastercard procedures based on the kinds of products and services they primarily sell. We group similar merchant codes into categories for purposes of making rewards offers to you. Please note:

- › We make every effort to include all relevant merchant codes in our rewards categories. However, even though a merchant or some of the items that it sells may appear to fit within a rewards category, the merchant may not have a merchant code in that category. When this occurs, purchases with that merchant won't qualify for rewards offers in that category.
- › Purchases submitted through third-party payment accounts, mobile or wireless card readers, online or mobile digital wallets, or similar technology will not qualify in a rewards category if the technology is not set up to process the purchase in that rewards category. For more information about Chase Rewards categories, see chase.com/RewardsCategoryFAQs.

Ways to earn bonus points

- We may offer you ways to earn bonus points through this program, such as Refer-a-Friend, or special promotions. You'll find out more about the number of bonus points you can earn, the duration of the offer and expiration date, if any, and any other terms at the time of the offer. The additional terms will be part of this agreement. The natural expiration of a limited time bonus point offer is not a modification to the program that requires notification.

Information about earning and transferring points and TQPs to Southwest Airlines

- Points are earned at the close of each monthly billing cycle, based on the purchases made during that billing cycle, plus any bonus points posted during that billing cycle, but minus any returns or refunds. If you have more returns or refunds than purchases, then the points deducted from your total point balance may result in a negative point balance.
- TQPs are earned at the close of each monthly billing cycle in which you've qualified to receive them.
- You'll see points you've earned from card purchases on chase.com and on your monthly card billing statement. Please note that on your card billing statement, you'll see the additional points earned from rewards category purchases separately from the points earned on all other purchases.
- We may, from time to time, provide additional ways for you to see points you've earned, such as through Chase or third-party mobile application(s).
- You'll see TQPs you've earned in your Rapid Rewards account; however, they won't appear on your monthly card billing statement.
- Points and TQPs earned during a billing cycle will be automatically transferred to Southwest Airlines after the end of each billing cycle.

Rapid Rewards® Premier Card Rewards Program Agreement

- This agreement governs the receipt of points and TQPs in connection with the use of your account and is separate and in addition to the Rapid Rewards Rules and Regulations that govern your participation in the Rapid Rewards Program. The Rapid Rewards Rules and Regulations are available online at Southwest.com/rterms or call the Rapid Rewards Service Center at 1-800-I-FLY-SWA®. Information in this agreement that relates to the Rapid Rewards Program isn't complete or comprehensive and doesn't include all the information that you should know about the Rapid Rewards Program.
- Southwest Airlines reserves the right to amend, suspend, or change the Rapid Rewards Program and/or program rules at any time without notice.
- If your membership in the Rapid Rewards Program is terminated for any reason by you or Southwest Airlines, you'll no longer be eligible to use the points or TQPs you've earned in this program.
- Chase will make a request to Southwest Airlines to award points or TQPs to your associated Rapid Rewards account. Chase disclaims liability or responsibility for Southwest Airlines' failure to award or redeem points or TQPs to or from your associated Rapid Rewards account after Chase has met its obligations to Southwest Airlines in connection with such a request.
- Reward travel is subject to taxes, fees, and other government or airport-imposed charges from $5.60 per one-way trip. Applicable taxes, fees, and other government or airport-imposed charges can vary significantly based on your arrival and departure destination. The payment of any taxes, fees, and other government or airport-imposed charges is the responsibility of the Passenger and must be paid at the time reward travel is booked. In some instances, the government may elect to collect the fees directly from the Passenger.
- Points expiration: The expiration of points earned in this program that are transferred to your Rapid Rewards account will be governed by the Rapid Rewards Rules and Regulations, available at Southwest.com/rterms.
- You understand that Chase and Southwest Airlines Co. exchange information about you and your accounts and that Southwest Airlines Co. may contact you regarding offers that may be of interest to you.

How you can use your points

- To use your points, go to Southwest.com or call Southwest Airlines directly at 1-800-I-FLY-SWA.
- We may, from time to time, provide additional ways for you to use your points in addition to those described in this agreement, such as through Chase or third parties. To use your points, minimum and maximum amounts may apply, and the redemption value of points may be worth less than other reward options offered directly through this program or the Rapid Rewards Program. You'll find out about any additional terms and conditions before you use your points. Any additional terms, conditions, disclosures, or agreements provided by us, or the third party related to the use of points will be part of this agreement.

How you could be prohibited from earning or having points transferred

- We may temporarily prohibit you from earning points or TQPs and we may not transfer points or TQPs you've already earned to Southwest Airlines if we suspect you've engaged in misuse or fraudulent activity related to your account or this program.
- You can begin earning points or TQPs again, and any points or TQPs that we've held will be transferred to Southwest Airlines in the next billing cycle after you make a payment to your account sufficient to become current or when we otherwise no longer suspect misuse or fraudulent activity related to the account or this program.

How you could lose your points

- You'll immediately lose all points or TQPs that haven't been transferred to Southwest Airlines if your account status changes, or your account is closed, for misuse, fraud, or any of the following reasons:
 - › you fail to comply with other agreements you have with Chase
 - › we believe you may be unwilling or unable to pay your debts on time, including filing for bankruptcy
 - › we believe that you've engaged in fraudulent activity related to your account or this program
- We won't reinstate points or TQPs you lose unless we've made an error.
- If your account is closed for any other reason, we'll automatically transfer any points or TQPs earned to Southwest Airlines, as long as you don't lose them for any of the reasons described in this agreement.
