- We won’t provide prior notice when we change what you can get with your points within particular redemption options (for example, we won’t provide notice if the selection or availability of gift cards change, or if a specific product or experience is out of stock through the program). You understand and agree that we can make these changes at any time. Future availability of any specific items isn’t guaranteed.
- You can see what you currently can get with your points when you log in to our website, chase.com/ultimaterewards.

How you can earn points

- You’ll earn points on purchases of products and services,

Chase Sapphire Preferred® with Ultimate Rewards® Program Agreement

minus returns or refunds (collectively, the “purchases”), made with a card by you or an authorized user of the account; however, the following types of transactions won’t count as purchases and won’t earn points:

- › purchases that qualify for the $50 Annual Chase Travel Hotel Credit
- › balance transfers
- › cash advances or cash-like transactions
- › travelers checks, foreign currency, money orders or wire transfers
- › lottery tickets, casino gaming chips, race track wagers or similar betting transactions
- › any checks that access your account
- › interest
- › unauthorized or fraudulent charges
- › fees of any kind, including an annual fee, if applicable

• You’ll earn:

- › 5 points for each $1 spent on purchases made using your card through Chase Travel. You may see “5X” in marketing materials to refer to the 5 points you earn for each $1 spent on purchases made using your card through Chase Travel.
 - For example, if you spend $400 on airline ticket purchases through Chase Travel, you will earn 2,000 points.
 - You can book Chase Travel at chasetravel.com or call the number on the back of your card.
 - If only a portion of your Chase Travel purchase is paid using your card and the remaining is paid using points, only the portion paid with your card will qualify for earning points.
 - Travel purchases made using your card through FROSCH and its family of travel companies will not qualify to earn 5 points for each $1 spent.
- › 3 points for each $1 spent on purchases made in the following rewards categories: dining at restaurants including takeout and eligible delivery services; select streaming services; online grocery (excluding Target®, Walmart® and wholesale clubs). You may see “3X” in marketing materials to refer to the 3 points you earn for each $1 spent in these categories.
 - For example, if you spend $200 on purchases in these categories, you will earn 600 points.
- › 2 points for each $1 spent on purchases made in the travel category (excluding purchases made through Chase Travel that qualify for 5 points as described above). You may see “2X” in marketing materials to refer to the 2 points you earn for each $1 spent in this category.
 - For example, if you spend $100 on purchases in the travel category, you will earn 200 points.
 - Travel purchases made using your card through FROSCH and its family of travel companies will qualify to earn 2 points for each $1 spent.

- › 1 point for each $1 spent on all other purchases. You may see “1X” in marketing materials to refer to the 1 point you earn for each $1 spent on all other purchases.

- For example, if you spend $50 on all other purchases, you will earn 50 points.

- › 10% anniversary points bonus: Each account anniversary year, you’ll earn bonus points that equal 10% of your total spend in points from purchases made with your card during the previous account anniversary year at a rate of 1 point for each $1 spent. You may see “10% Anniversary Points Boost” in marketing materials to refer to the 10% anniversary points bonus you’ll earn each account anniversary year. To qualify for the 10% anniversary points bonus each account anniversary year, your account must be open and not in default, as defined in your Cardmember Agreement, at the time of fulfillment. Please allow 2-3 billing cycles after each account anniversary year you qualify, for the 10% anniversary points bonus to post to your account.

- “account anniversary year” means the year beginning with your account open date through the anniversary of your account open date, and each 12 months after that.
 - For example, if you have a total spend of $25,000 on purchases made with your card during your previous account anniversary year, you will earn a 10% anniversary points bonus of 2,500 points after your account anniversary year.
- The 10% anniversary points bonus will be based on purchases that post to your account during the previous account anniversary year.
 - For example, if you make a purchase during the current anniversary year, but the merchant does not post the transaction until after the current account anniversary year ends, that purchase will be included as part of your total spend in points in the next year’s 10% anniversary points bonus.

• Rewards Categories: Merchants who accept

Visa/Mastercard credit cards are assigned a merchant code, which is determined by the merchant or its processor in accordance with Visa/Mastercard procedures based on the kinds of products and services they primarily sell. We group similar merchant codes into categories for purposes of making rewards offers to you. Please note:

- › We make every effort to include all relevant merchant codes in our rewards categories. However, even though a merchant or some of the items that it sells may appear to fit within a rewards category, the merchant may not have a merchant code in that category. When this occurs, purchases with that merchant won’t qualify for rewards offers on purchases in that category.

Chase Sapphire Preferred® with Ultimate Rewards® Program Agreement

- › Purchases submitted by you, an authorized user, or the merchant through third-party payment accounts, mobile or wireless card readers, online or mobile digital wallets, or similar technology will not qualify in a rewards category if the technology is not set up to process the purchase in that rewards category. For more information about Chase rewards categories, see chase.com/RewardsCategoryFAQs.

Ways to earn bonus points

- We may offer you ways to earn bonus points through the program, such as Refer-a-Friend, Shop through Chase® or special promotions. You'll find out more about the number of bonus points you can earn, the duration of the offer and expiration date, if any, and any other terms at the time of the offer. The additional terms will be part of this agreement. The natural expiration of a limited time bonus point offer is not a modification to the program that requires notification.

Other information about the earning and availability of points

- Points are earned at the close of each monthly billing cycle, based on the purchases made during that billing cycle, plus any bonus points posted during that billing cycle, but minus any returns or refunds. If you have more returns or refunds than purchases, then the points deducted from your total point balance may result in a negative point balance.
- You'll see points you've earned on chase.com and on your monthly card billing statement.
- We may, from time to time, provide additional ways for you to see points you've earned, such as through Chase or third-party mobile application(s).
- Points earned in a monthly billing cycle are generally available to be used at the beginning of the next billing cycle; however, points earned on purchases made near the end of a billing cycle may take up to one additional billing cycle to become available.

How you can use your points

- You can use your points to redeem for any available reward options. Options may include: cash, gift cards, travel, transfer of points to participating frequent travel programs, and pay with points for products or services made available through the program or directly from third parties. You can also combine points with your other eligible Chase cards that have Ultimate Rewards.
- We may, from time to time, provide additional ways for you to use your points in addition to those described in this agreement, such as through Chase or third parties.
- Redemption values for reward options vary.
 - › When you use points to redeem for cash, gift cards, and travel, each point is worth $.01 (one cent), which means that 100 points equals $1 in redemption value.
 - › Redemption values for other reward options may be worth more or less than this.
 - › We may offer special promotions through the program with a redemption value that may be worth more than the cash redemption value of $.01 for each point. You'll find out more about each special promotion, the duration of the offer and expiration date, if any, and any other terms at the time of the offer. The additional terms will be part of this agreement. The natural expiration of a limited time offer is not a modification to the program that requires notification.

- You are responsible for how points are used, including if you allow authorized users to access your points.
- To use your points, minimum and maximum amounts may apply. We'll let you know about any minimum or maximum amounts, as well as any additional terms and conditions, before you use your points.
- Once points have been used, the transaction is considered final and may not be canceled unless otherwise noted.
- The amount of time it takes for the delivery of items depends on the item. Some items can't be shipped to PO Boxes or foreign addresses.
- Applicable sales/use taxes, fees, surcharges, and shipping and handling charges are your responsibility.
- We're not responsible for replacing lost, stolen or damaged redemption items, including certificates, tickets or gift cards or for a merchant's failure to honor them.

- Go to chase.com/ultimaterewards, call the number on the back of your card or visit a Chase branch to request your cash.
- Account statement credits will reduce your account balance. Gift cards

- You can use points for gift cards and gift certificates through the program.
- Go to chase.com/ultimaterewards, call the number on the back of your card or visit a Chase branch to order gift cards and gift certificates.
- Gift cards and gift certificates are valid at participating merchants only, and are subject to the issuer's terms and conditions, which, if permitted by law, address expiration policies and non-usage fees and can be changed at the sole discretion of the issuer.

Travel

- You can use points for available travel redemption options through Chase Travel.
- You can book Chase Travel at chasetravel.com or call the number on the back of your card.

- A service fee may be charged for calling Chase Travel to book. We'll let you know of the amount of any service fee, if applicable, before you book.
- If you don't have enough points to book your travel, you can pay the additional cost with your card. You can also book most travel through Chase Travel without any points by using your card to pay for it. Minimum point amounts may apply to some bookings.
- Additional terms, conditions and disclosures may apply and will be provided to you before booking your travel and will be part of this agreement.
- For additional information about Chase Travel, please click on the Travel Disclosures link which can be found at the bottom of chasetravel.com. The Travel Disclosures are a part of this agreement.

Pay with Points for products and services

- We may give you opportunities to use your points for all or part of a payment for the purchase of eligible products or services directly through third-party merchants or service providers. In order to do so, you must either be automatically enrolled or complete the self-registration process directly with the merchant or service provider.
 - › To participate, you may be required to authorize Chase to share information about your account with the third party. We'll provide you with additional details as required by law.
 - › After you are enrolled, Chase will provide the third party with information about your participation in the program, including your program points balance.
 - › Points will not be used without your permission. You select when and how many points are used each time you make a purchase with the third party, unless you opt into a default payment feature offered by the third party. In that case, your points will be applied automatically in accordance with your selected default payment settings.
 - › The redemption value of points may be worth less when using them directly through third-party merchants or service providers than the redemption value of points used for reward options offered directly through the program.
 - › We'll deduct the number of points that you use from your program points balance. Your points balance may not reflect pending transactions until the order has shipped.
 - › Returns and point refunds are subject to the policies of the third party.
 - › Any additional terms, conditions, disclosures or agreements provided by us or the third party related to the use of points will be part of this agreement.
 - › Auto-enrollment.
 - You may be automatically enrolled with a third party if:

- You currently have a card stored in the account you maintain with that third party; or

- You add a card to the account you maintain with the third party.

- You may de-enroll at any time.

- We may give you opportunities to use your points to pay for products or services from third-party merchants directly through the program.

- › Products or services may not always be available and may change without notice.
- › The redemption value of points may be worth less than other reward options offered directly through the program.
- › Any additional terms, conditions, disclosures or agreements provided by us related to the products or services you obtain will be part of this agreement.
